MIDDLEBURY 5 MASS. "AGGIES" 4

Varsity Shows Flash of Old-time Form, and Bats Out Victory in Hair Raising Finish.

Middlebury came back strong in Tuesday's game with the Massachusetts "Aggies," showing a complete reversal of form from that displayed in the Williams game. Every man was in the game from start to finish, and showed the old-time fight. Up to the seventh inning the Aggies held a lead of four to two, but when the Midd. sluggers drove across three runs in this and the eighth innings, they provided the best and most startling finish that has been witnessed on Porter Field since the Vermont game of two years ago.

The field was rain-soaked, making fast play impossible and the ball hard to handle, but there were some mighty good plays turned in. Sears made one of the best catches ever seen on the field, when he went directly back to short left and stabbed a fly of Quimby's, turning a complete somersault after making the catch. Robinson, immediately after this catch, robbed Richardson of a three-bagger on the latter's long smash to deep left. The timely hitting of Dewhirst, Bartlett, Aylward and Capt. Robinson was directly responsible for turning the tide against the Massachusetts aggregation. Middlebury's ability to hit when hits were needed, pulled victory out of a hard-fought struggle.

Aylward pitched a good game during the seven innings he was in the box, having a big break on his spitter and keeping the hits well scattered. For the visitors, King played a good game at short, and Grayson turned in a pretty catch of a foul over by the stand. Quimby also pitched a good game up to the seventh, when he began to weaken.

Coach Murch should be given a word of praise for the way he handled the team, picking the right men at the right time. The team played the kind of ball that wins, and it is hoped a long winning streak has started.

Middlebury got a good start in the first after the Aggies had been disposed of in order. Bresnahan and Lamere were easy outs, but Mott connected with one of Westman's fast ones for a clean single to right. Dewhirst followed with another single to center, and both scored a moment later when Robinson hit for three bases into right field. Bartlett made the last out on a slow grounder to the pitcher.

The Aggies came back in the second with a score. Day, the first man up, was safe on a clean single to left. He was sacrificed to second by Chambers, and scored a moment later when Dewhirst threw Quimby's easy grounder over Bullis' head. Richardson was out on a foul to Mott.

The second, third and fourth innings were scoreless, but were filled with clean, sharp fielding on the part of both teams.

MIDDLEBURY INFLUENCE IN JAPAN.

Mr. Suzuki, Former Middlebury Student Doing Noble Work at Famous Doshisha University. Proposition to Build Middlebury Hall at Japanese Seat of Learning.

MR. YOSHIMITSU SUZUKI
AND HIS FAMILY

Several of the larger colleges in America have come to be widely known as sponsors of definite missionary activity in the Orient, and as such have long since established schools and hospitals which have played a conspicuous part in the education and evangelization of the eastern countries, especially China. Notable instances are to be found in the institutions supported by Harvard, Yale, and Princeton.

Missionary activities of every conceivable type have never been so general, and every year a keener interest is being shown in the work, especially among American colleges. Those who doubt the importance or significance of this great work are profoundly ignorant of the facts. The undergraduate body of America is furnishing the store from which the great supply of needed workers is being drawn, and in many institutions, courses have been added to the curriculum for the purpose of furnishing an educational basis for student missionary work. The large colleges mentioned above have become known the world over by virtue of the great work which they have already accomplished in this field, and many of the lesser colleges are falling into line. Among this number, Middlebury is conspicuous by her absence. Why this charge? In years past, our college has ranked high in its percentage of graduates who have given their lives to Christian service. Middlebury has every reason for sustaining the very highest types of service.

During the past few months there has come to our college a rare opportunity for a great work, which, if seized upon, will be of far greater significance to the future development of our institution than is possible now to clearly foresee—an opportunity for missionary service parallel to that of Yale, or any of the other great colleges. A few years ago Middlebury sent back to his native Japan, a student of three years' standing who has since become known for his loyalty, his devotion to the highest ideals, and his wisdom. Mr. Suzuki has given his life, body and soul, to the education and spiritual uplift of his young countrymen, and in this noble sacrifice his life has already borne fruit. He has labored in connection with the time-honored Doshisha University, which has recently been recognized by the imperial government of Japan. The school has grown rapidly, and Mr. Suzuki finds himself very much hampered at the present time owing to the lack of adequate dormitory facilities. Building construction in Japan, however, is very much cheaper than in America, and such a dormitory could be built at a comparatively very low cost.

It has been proposed that Middlebury, in connection with her alumni, raise the funds necessary to build a new dormitory for the accommodation of Mr. Suzuki's students in the University, to be called Middlebury Hall in honor of the college. The following is a communication sent us by one of our graduates of the class of 1906 who, in her recent travels through the East, visited the Doshisha University.

"About a dozen years ago when we had chapel stage exercises every Saturday morning, we had to hand our essays or orations beforehand to Professor Wright for approval. One Saturday, however, Yoshimitsu Suzuki, a sophomore from Japan, delivered in his genial English a memorable oration that Professor Wright had never before seen. He took as his text the unfinished Catholic church built by the small contributions of many loyal supporters. He pictured to us the state of the so-called gymnasium in Painter Hall with its dust and useless apparatus; he recalled our crowded receptions in the library where we had to 'eat in that dusty down-stairs.' Then he urged us to sacrifice our little to bring near the day of a new gymnasium. We laughed ourselves weak over his picture, but we listened and remembered, for 'Yoshi' was a bright and merry boy.

"Mr. Suzuki has returned now to Japan, and sacrificing more lucrative offers, is teaching in the school which fitted him for his studies in America—the historic Doshisha. Last autumn he took me to the opening chapel exercises of the school. It was an imposing sight—hundreds of bright-eyed, uniformed Japanese boys in rows and rows of shining faces, listening to the opening words of their President, or singing lustily our Christian hymns. Mr. Suzuki sat beside me, grave, dignified, honored. It was good to see him, taking up the burden of helping his people with his scholarship, his initiative, and devotion. President Harada, Miss Denton—all the

"Freddie" Jones Captures Second Place from Big Field in the Two Mile.

On her second appearance at the Intercollegiates, held last Saturday at Pratt Field, Springfield, Mass., "Midd." gave a decidedly good account of herself, when Jones, a Freshman, running his first big race, came home second in the 2-mile, out of a field of twenty starters, in the fast time of 9m. 52 3-5 sec. The race, one of the best distance races seen at the meets in several years, was closely contested throughout, the winner being decided only in the sprint for the tape, Jones being beaten only a few feet by Brown of Williams. The showing made by Jones is a fair exampl of what we might do in many other events were we but willing to sacrifice a few of our pleasures for the necessary training.

In the half-mile, Hollister, '17, whose chances were considered good for a few points in the event, was tripped on the first turn, getting a bad fall, and wrenching his knee, putting him out of the race.

In the hurdles, Lee, '17, getting away with a good start, finished third in his heat, but was disqualified from the finals for knocking down four hurdles.

The showing made by the team was most satisfactory from every point of view, considering the fact that on its second appearance at the games, it tied for 7th place with its larger and more experienced rivals, Trinity and Wesleyan, and placed ahead of such teams as Tufts, Brown, Colby, Amherst, M. A. C., Worcester Tech., Bates, and Vermont.

MIDDLEBURY vs. RENSSELAER.

The Varsity Track Team to Oppose New Yorkers in Final Meet.

Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the track team will meet the strong R.P.I. team at Porter Field, in what will, without a doubt, prove to be the hardest dual meet of the season. R. P. I. has a well-rounded-out team this year and is confident of the victory, their work against Union of late being very creditable.

The Middlebury team is in good condition, and the men have been working hard during the past week and a half since the St. Lawrence meet. The breaking of records during the entire season in different meets by Lee, Jones and Hollister shows a marked improvement in the quality of the team.

We are very hopeful, but not overconfident, for in R. P. I. we meet one of the strongest college track teams in New York State.

Coach Holmes announces the following list of entries:

Faculty Supervision.

Coach Holmes has been working on a scheme to promote interest in the minor sports, and at the same time to give the participants some fundamental coaching in them. His idea is to have members of the faculty take charge of some of the sports, like tennis, hand-ball and soccer football.

Professor Bonney gave instruction in tennis in the gymnasium, generally two afternoons a week, during the winter months, and we feel sure certain faculty members, who are really expert hand-ball players, would be willing to devote some time to that sport.

The fact is that the students play at these games without really playing them, whereas a little coaching would not only make the men more proficient, but also add to their enjoyment. Then faculty supervision and coaching would also give the student a different view of the professors, as well as giving the faculty an opportunity to see the student in a different light. Another result would be that the students, who are not physically able to take part in the major sports, would be able to more than hold their own with their more athletic fellow-students in these minor sports. It is also believed that this plan would lessen to a considerable degree the gap that lies between the faculty and students, and thereby result in a step forward toward the betterment of the college as a whole.

Athletic Association Elections.

The Athletic Association of the Women's College has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Charlotte Marsh, '17; vice-president, Louesa Bullis, '17; secretary-treasurer, Louetta Haynes, '19.

honored workers there—paid high tribute to his influence and wisdom. Perhaps no teacher in the Doshiha is so relied upon.

"So often the capacity of his little home is taxed by students whom his generosity can not refuse, that it is his great dream to have a small dormitory where he and his family may live and have in their care the boys who need personal guidance. Such a dormitory to accommodate about twenty boys would cost but 4000 yen or $2000, if the land were rented of a Buddist priesthood close by.

"Miss Denton said to me, 'Why couldn't Mr. Suzuki's college do something for him?'—why COULDN'T we?"

Social Service Work by Y. W. C. A.

The social service committee of the Y. W. C. A. has started a very interesting line of work this spring. The committee has formed a group of girls who wish to form "Eight Week Clubs" among the girls in the small towns and country districts this coming summer. The purpose of the "Eight Week Clubs" is to bring into the lives of the girls in rural districts some of the many good things which college gives.

Miss Ross and Mrs. Bryant have been a source of great help and inspiration. Owing to their suggestions, it has been arranged to have a play and story hour for the small children of Middlebury, on Saturday afternoons. All who may have wondered at the presence of so many eager, shouting children in front of Pearsons Hall on Saturday afternoons, will find the explanation here. Two such story hours have been held by this Eight Week Club Preparation Band, and both have been decidedly successful. The stories and games were delightful, but refreshments! My! that made it a real party, and an invitation to "come again and bring some one else" did not have to be repeated. It is hoped that this story and play hour may develop in time into a playground for the children of Middlebury.

Parker Prize Trials.

Wednesday evening at seven in the old chapel the preliminary contest for the selection of four freshmen speakers to take part in the annual prize speaking, for the Parker prizes will be conducted by Prof. Cady. The fraternities have chosen the following men to take part in the trials: Kappa Delta Rho, Pitkin; Delta Sigma, Plumb; Delta Upsilon, Bullis; Chi Psi, Towers; Alpha Sigma Phi, Greer; Delta Kappa Epsilon, Ruether. The judges will be Professors Burrage, Sanford, and Howard.

For the Merrill prizes each fraternity is to delegate a sophomore. There will be no preliminary contest. Two contestants will be chosen in addition, one of whom will be a neutral.

Hillside Frolic.

Saturday evening, May 20, the members of I. K. L. initiated Miss Lewmina Rickert, '19, into the rites of their order at Hillside cottage. This occasion was followed by a Masquerade dance and refreshments. The evening's fun was completed with a good sing on the steps, which was as thoroughly enjoyed by the rest of the people on the women's campus as by the Hillside freshmen themselves.

EXCHANGE NOTES.

At Harvard, this year, any man who does not use satisfactory rhetoric is compelled to take an elementary course without credit.

Over four hundred men have petitioned the faculty of Brown University to authorize the resumption of basketball as a major sport.

The freshman class at Princeton this year is the smallest in three years.

Work has recently been started on a new stadium for Carnegie Institute of Technology. It is to have a quarter-mile track, and seats for 7000 on a side.

Freshmen of the University of Chicago issue a weekly called "The Green Cap." It is printed in green ink, and all the names of the freshmen are printed backwards.

The Syracuse relay men are not allowed to attend the Senior Ball. Says the Daily Orange: "When despairing coeds begin to look for Senior Ball invitations watch the relay squad grow."

The Maine colleges have adopted their baseball schedules according to the three game system: each college plays three games with every other college.

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute has developed plans for a dormitory system and dining hall which is to cost one half million when completed.

Anonymous Gift to Cornell.

To build the new dining hall which will form on unit of the group of dormitory buildings being erected on the campus, a gift of $355,000 in two parts has been made to Cornell University by anonymous donors. This will make $55,000 toward the $300,000 cost of the building.

Close Vote Saves Rugby.

Stanford University students turned down a proposition to abandon Rugby football in favor of the American game by a vote of 441 to 392. The vote gave the final answer to a question that has been agitated since the University of California broke off football relations with Stanford last year and went back to the American game.

Penn. State to Teach Coaching.

Pennsylvania State College is to institute a Summer school for the instruction of athletic coaches for colleges and schools. The curriculum includes the methods and principles of coaching and training teams in football, baseball, track and field sports, basketball, soccer and hockey. Graduate Manager of Athletics R. H. Smith has laid out a course of field demonstrations and instructions with a schedule of six hour's work daily for six weeks, beginning June 26. Coaches R. C. Harlow, B. M. Herman and C. W. Marvin of the college teams will act as instructors. The college authorities state this to be the first course of the kind undertaken by an Eastern college.

Wisconsin Wants Rowing Restored.

Each college and class in the University of Wisconsin is represented by eight-oared crews this spring. Some 150 students practice daily under Coach "Dad" Vail. It is the greatest number ever booked at the Badger institution in any one year. So intense is the interest that the Board of Regents has appropriated $7,500 to remodel the boathouse, and alumni will see to it that the present equipment of nine racing shells is considerably increased. Changes in athletic directorship which have been slowly effected point to ultimate recognition of rowing as a college sport once more.

Big Plans at Johns Hopkins.

It has been recently learned that the Rockefeller General Education Board is to establish a three million dollar extension to the medical school of Johns Hopkins University. It is said that the three million dollars which will be appropriated for the purpose will be used for the creation of a great public health institute.

Buildings equipped with every modern device and up to the minute in every detail will be erected, and their operation will be given over to the best experts that can be procured.

One of the most important features of the institute will be the establishment of scholarships. These will not only be open to contestants of this country, but to those of every nation in the world.

Alumni Control at St. Louis.

St. Louis University is to try alumni control of athletic activities, with the President of the University an active member of the governing body. This is to be accomplished by the formation of the St. Louis University Union, in the organization of which James Garneau, President of the very successful Missouri Athletic Association and incidentally Vice-President of the Browns; Paul Blakewell, Jr., A. A. Cervantes and A. G. Eberle are the active committee. One hundred graduates are to be asked to contribute twenty dollars each, and this fund is expected to put college athletics in good financial condition once more. The Union will then select coaches and put an end to the student quarrels which have resulted in athletic wreckage in the past.

The Colleges in Congress.

In England the leading universities are represented directly in Parliament by members elected by the alumni. In the United States we have no such system, but, nevertheless, our colleges—and our astonishingly large number of them—get represented in Congress. By the 380 members of the present Senate and House who report collegiate education, 173 different institutions are named. No college would have more than two if they were equally distributed, but they are not. The University of Michigan, with twenty-seven of its graduates in Congress, still holds the Washington pennant which it wrested from Yale some years ago. The University of Virginia, as we should expect under a Democratic regime, follows next with twenty. Then come Harvard 19, Yale 13, Wisconsin 10, Alabama 7, Mississippi 7, Missouri 7, Minnesota 6, Iowa 6 and Georgia 6. The fact that of the eleven institutions which have more than five representatives in Congress, all but two are State Universities, shows what an important factor in political life these institutions have become. It is equally interesting to observe that such large and important Universities as Columbia, Pennsylvania, Cornell and Princeton have only three of their men in Congress, and Johns Hopkins and Stanford none at all. Twenty-eight per cent of the members mention no institution of higher education, and presumably attended none. —Independent.

MAN OF THE OLD STONE AGE.

Lecture by Dr. Lambert to Alchemists.

The Alchemist Club, which was revived here back in the winter, after a period of innocuous desuetude has shown a good deal of vitality under the leadership of Dan Mason, '17. Two or three lectures of broad scientific interest have already been given, under the auspices of the club, and these have been open to the public. This furnishes a nucleus for the development of a much wider and deeper interest in the growth of scientific knowledge and its direct application to modern life than is possible in the necessarily circumscribed courses of the college curriculum. Why not enlarge this interest even more so as to appeal to a much larger class of students than at the present time? The club has started a fine work, but we hope to see it make the most of the opportunities at hand.

Professor A. E. Lambert recently gave an illustrated lecture in the Latin room on the "Man of the Old Stone Age." We regret that there were not more present to receive the benefits both of the information that Dr. Lambert gave us and also the large number of slides which illustrated very fully the various stages of man's development physiologically and in the realm of art and science. Dr. Lambert explained how the different periods of time are divided off in the geological development of the world and the various ways in which man developed during the various periods. One of the most interesting features was the explanation of the extremely slow growth of man's skill in the use of tools and in the higher faculties of the intellectual brain. The early stages were of great length, but as the development of man became more complicated each succeeding period much shorter than the previous one, until the very latest stage shortened to within fifty thousand years.

Williams Game.

The varsity suffered the worst defeat in the history of the college at Williamstown, Saturday, May 20, when the Williams nine rolled up a total of 26 runs, while we had hard work pushing a single tally across the rubber.

Three of Midd's pitchers were pounded hard, and finally Capt. Robinson came in from the field and twirled the last two innings. It was indeed a sorry exhibition from start to finish, and probably the less said about it the better. The team is capable of giving Williams, or any other team of its caliber, a close game any time, and it is hoped all the poor work of the men came out in Saturday's game.

It is not right to judge of the possibilities of a team by its work in any one game, so let's get back of our nine and look to the future games to wipe out this defeat.

Girls Play Base Ball.

Inspired by the enthusiastic yells from the inter-fraternity base ball games the girls have decided to follow the illustrious example of the other half of the college and show their base ball talent. The girls' games will start this week and will be played between the sororities and neutrals. The regular base ball will be used. A coach has not yet been procured and all applications for this position will be carefully considered.

MIDDLEBURY 5, MASS. "AGGIES" 4.

The visitors started things in the fifth, after King had gone out on an easy tap to Dewhirst. Walker was safe when "Zeb" threw wild to first on his bunt, and took third on a wild pitch. Grayson waited and got a free ride. Then "Zeh's" throw, trying to catch him at second, was muffed by Dewhirst, allowing Walker to score. Day, next man up, singled over second, scoring Grayson. Chambers and Holden were easy outs by the strike-out route.

In the sixth, after Sears had made a circus catch of Quimby's fly to short left, and Robinson had made a pretty catch of Richardson's liner close to the left field foul line, Palmer was safe on a roller to short, and scored a minute later when Robinson let King's low drive thru his legs. Walker made the third out on a grounder to Dewhirst.

After Bartlett had fanned in the seventh, Christian was safe on a bunt, but was forced at second by Sears. Aylward smashed one to right, scoring Sears, but Ruether, running for him, was out, trying to steal.

Garrison, pitching in the eighth, disposed of the visitors without trouble.

Bresnahan, the first man up in Midd's half of the eighth, laid down a pretty bunt, which Richardson pegged over first, Tommy taking second. Lamere made a sacrifice bunt, and Bresnahan, drawing a throw from first, came home when the ball went to the stand. Brickett grounded out to third, but Dewhirst and Robby each came thru with hits to right. Bartlett followed with a Texas leaguer over first, putting Dewhirst across with the winning run.

Garrison had the old stuff in the ninth, fanning two and forcing the third man to send him an easy grounder.

Students Coming to Middlebury.

According to the Rutland Herald, a poll of the members of the Senior class of the Rutland High School, made recently, shows that Middlebury will get the largest delegation of students from that institution next fall, when ten of the graduating class will matriculate here. Norwich is the second best choice with seven, while U. V. M. will get three.

Trouble at Norwich.

As a result of the severe hazing of six freshmen at Norwich University during the past week, three members of the Sophomore class were expelled outright, and the remainder of the class indefinitely suspended. The other three classes at the University are standing solidly behind President Reeves and the faculty, in their determination to stamp out hazing at Vermont's military college.

Norwich Here Tuesday.

Norwich will oppose the varsity on Porter Field Tuesday in a return game. While Middlebury won the previous contest 4 to 1, the Cadets can be depended upon to make things interesting until the last man is out. The game will be called at three o'clock.

ALUMNI NOTES.

'97. J. A. Cadwell spent the week-end at the Chi Psi Lodge.

'15. Miss Marjorie Wright returned last week from Florida and Washington, D. C., where she has been spending the previous months with her parents, Dean Wright and Mrs. Wright.

'15. Guy Hendry, who is pastor of the Congregational church at New Haven, is acting for the New Haven High school in endeavoring to procure the Middlebury College Glee Club for a concert there during their Commencement We k.

Y. W. C. A. Meeting.

A regular Y. W. C A. meeting was held in the Hemicycle Thursday afternoon May 18, at four o'clock. The leader was Katherine Ball. Professor Harrington spoke to the girls in a very interesting and helpful manner. His text was based on the sentence, "Jesus went about doing good". He told how Jesus' Empire, that of Christianity, had endured and cited how Alexander the Great wept because there were not more worlds to conquer, but all his empire had fallen to pieces. He suggested that we could apply the moral to our lives and not wait for the big opportunities, but do the little things around us every day the very best we could, and thus serve Christ. Special music consisted of a duet by Helen Linnell and Helen Simms.

Deutscher Verein Meets.

On the evening of May 22, the Deutscher Verein met in the Union rooms. Despite the great majority of "Damen" the evening was a success. After the business meeting, at which was read a very interesting letter from M. G. Hubbard, '13, who was delegate to the New York meeting of Deutscher Verein, followed a varied program. A play "Ein Amerikanishes Duell" was read by the Misses Hobbs and Myers and Mr. Anderson and Mr. Axt. Some German songs were rendered by the Verein quintet. Miss Harris played a mandolin solo and Professor Skillings completed the program of the evening by reading a story of the present war.

Varsity on Three Days' Trip.

Coach Murch and Manager Cowles with their charges left on the noon train Wednesday for a three day trip in New York State. On Thursday our men meet Hamilton, at Clinton, and on Friday engage Colgate, at Hamilton. After Tuesday's win, both the men and Coach Murch are confident of a successful trip. The following men made the trip: Bresnahan, Crippin, Dewhirst, Bower, Brickett, Mott, Robinson, Christian, Bartlett, Garrison, Sears, and Lamere. The return will be made on Saturday.

Trip to Lake Dunmore.

Several people took advantage of the beautiful weather Saturday afternoon to go to Lake Dunmore. Misses Greely, Fisher and McNall walked out to the Lake. They spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Greeley's aunt in Salisbury. While they were there, they climbed Moosalamoo and made excursions to Silver Lake and the cascades. Monday morning the girls walked five miles to the Salisbury station to take the train and reached here in time for chapel.

ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY

Incorporated

Supplies Schools of All Grades with Competent Teachers
Assists Teachers in Obtaining Positions

We receive calls for wide-awake and progressive teachers from every State in the Union, and we want more such teachers upon our lists.

We believe no agency in the country has done more for its clients or secured positions for a larger proportion of them. For several years we have had more positions than candidates, and we can certainly be of service to college graduates who wish to teach and WHO ARE QUALIFIED TO DO GOOD WORK.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Marjorie Lee and Helen Bosworth, '16, were the guests of Dr. A. M. Norton in Bristol, Saturday.

Louise Nelson, '16, spent the week-end at her home in Salisbury.

Ruth Clough, '19, spent the week-end at her home in Plattsburg, N. Y.

Ethel Gorton, '16, is visiting her parents at her home in Naugatuck, Conn.

Marjory Mackenzie, '17, was the guest of Irene Adams for the week-end at the latter's home in Rutland.

Elsie Foote, '18, and Marjorie Phelps, '17, spent the week-end at their homes in Vergennes.

Hazel Coburn, '19, attended Junior Week at Dartmouth College.

Christine Webster, '18, spent the week-end at her home in Whiting.

Miss McNeil, college librarian, spent a few days at her home in St. Johnsbury, last week.

Lynch, '18 and Earle, '18 were at their homes in Rutland over Sunday.

Edward Coonerty, ex-'16, who has employment at Windsor, Vt., was a visitor at the Chi Psi Lodge the past week.

Ross, '16, spent the week-end in St. Johnsbury.

Doris Kendall, Marie Champagne, '18, and Mildred Cady, '19, attended Junior Week at U. V. M. Friday and Saturday, and enjoyed the boat ride and fraternity dances.

The Sigma Kappa girls enjoyed a "bacon-bat" beside the creek on Monday night. After the ravenous appetites had been satisfied, all gathered for songs and frolic on the rocks.

An auto party consisting of Misses Marjorie Wright, Laura Mead, Katherine Ball, Charlotte Marsh and Doris Richards, also enjoyed an outing at the lake Saturday afternoon.

The girls who lived at Battell Cottage last year had a reunion there Saturday night. A fine spread was enjoyed and memories of last year's good times were renewed by many a tale.

Miss Olive Hall leaves Tuesday of this week for a trip to her home in Westminster West and Greenfield. She will return on Saturday.

Setting Out Trees on Campus.

Under the superintendence of Doctor Lambert, a gang of men has been engaged during the past week in setting out additional trees and shrubs about the campus. The roadway from the gymnasium to Porter Field has been lined on both sides with young maples. Both the Library and Warner Science Hall have been provided in front with beds of rose-bushes and various shrubs, all arranged in graceful lines and planned to give the best possible color effects when they are in blossom. These additions, together with the new concrete walk along Faculty Row, will certainly add to the attractiveness of our campus.
